

The satellite weather maps available through XM radio has been an incredibly value safety enhancer for me. I am a private pilot and the availability of up to the minute radar and lightning information makes my flying much safer. I pay for this service and it would be extremely disappointing to me to have it taken away by an NAB petition. Why would the government take an incredibly useful flight safety tool away from pilots?